One of the things I like best about school is my art class. We have a great teacher named Mrs. Elliott. She is a wonderful artist. I love to watch her draw and paint. She teaches us how to mix paint to make just the right colors for our paintings. She plays good music while we draw and paint. We draw and paint almost everyday in class. Some days we look at pictures of other artists. It is interesting to do this. It helps me to think of things that I want to paint or draw. We have an art exhibit in May this year. Our work will be in one of the halls in our town. We are inviting people from the community to our exhibit. Our parents are invited to go with us. I have three paintings I am working on now. I hope one of them will be chosen to be in the exhibit. I like having a goal to work toward.

Endangered Animals

Dinosaurs died out about 64 million years ago, but there are some animals today that are in danger. We call them endangered animals.

Only a few pandas still live in China. These black and white animals eat bamboo trees' leaves are endangered because people cut down the bamboo forests that provided their food.

The endangered caiman lives in South America. Many of these animals died because people hunted them for their skins. They used the skins to make shoes and purses.

The California condor lived in North America. People hunted this big bird. Now most of those left are in zoos.

Australia's koalas are endangered because they eat only eucalyptus trees. People and fires destroyed many of these trees. In the past, hunters also killed koalas for their brown fur.

If we don't do something to save these animals and protect their habitats they will go extinct soon.

Write the names of these endangered animals:

A. Answer the following questions:

- What do we call animals which are in danger?
We call them _____
- Where do pandas live?

The Town Mouse and the Country Mouse

Now you must know that a Town Mouse once upon a time went on a visit to his cousin in the country. He was rough and ready, this cousin, but he loved his town friend and made him heartily welcome. Beans and bacon, cheese and bread, were all he had to offer, but he offered them freely. The Town Mouse rather turned up his long nose at this country fare, and said: "I cannot understand, Cousin, how you can put up with such poor food as this, but of course you cannot expect anything better in the country; come you with me and I will show you how to live. When you have been in town a week you will wonder how you could ever have stood a country life." No sooner said than done: the two mice set off for the town and arrived at the Town Mouse's residence late at night. "You will want some refreshment after our long journey," said the polite Town Mouse, and took his friend into the grand dining-room. There they found the remains of a fine feast, and soon the two mice were eating up jellies and cakes and all that was nice. Suddenly they heard growling and barking. "What is that?" said the Country Mouse. "It is only the dogs of the house," answered the other. "Only!" said the Country Mouse. "I do not like that music at my dinner." Just at that moment, the door flew open, in came two huge mastiffs, and the two mice had to scamper down and run off. MAKING CONNECTIONS

NAME: _____

THE CAR CRASH

Our day started out just like any ordinary day. We ran out of milk so Mum and I jumped into the car to go down to the supermarket. That's when everything went wrong. We were driving along the road and suddenly I heard an ear shattering BANG! The car started shaking uncontrollably and we veered into the side of the road. I felt a thud as the back of the car hit a tree and we started spinning. Then everything stopped. I could see smoke coming from the bonnet of the car. Luckily both Mum and I were wearing our seatbelts so we survived the crash without a single injury. We gave each other a big hug and carefully stepped out of the car. As we looked around the car we saw that one of the tires had blown out and that's what had caused the loud bang that we heard. Then we heard sirens approaching and a police car pulled up next to us. The police officer made sure we were ok and not hurt and then he called the fire brigade to come and make sure the area was safe. It was a very scary day but I feel very lucky that it wasn't too serious and we didn't get hurt.

"Did you see that?" Joe said to his friend Bill. "You're a great shooter!" Bill caught the basketball and bounced it before throwing it again. The ball flew into the net. "Bill, you never miss!" Joe said admiringly. "Unless I'm in a real game," Bill complained. "Then I miss all the time." Joe knew that Bill was right. Bill performed much better when he was having fun with Joe in the school yard than he did when he was playing for the school team in front of a large crowd. "Maybe you just need to practice more," Joe suggested. "But I practice all the time with you!" Bill objected. He shook his head. "I just can't play well when people are watching me." "You play well when I'm watching," Joe pointed out. "That's because I've known you since we were five years old," Bill said with a smile. "I'm just not comfortable playing when other people are around." Joe nodded and understood, but he also had an idea. The next day Joe and Bill met in the school yard again to practice. After a few minutes, Joe excused himself. "Practice without me," Joe said to his friend. "I'll be back in a minute." Joe hurried through the school building, gathering together whom ever he could find—two students, a math teacher, two secretaries, and a janitor. When Joe explained why he needed them, everyone was happy to help. Joe reminded the group to stay quiet as they all went toward the school's basketball court. As Joe had hoped, Bill was still practicing basketball. He made five baskets in a row without noticing the silent people standing behind him. "Hey, Bill!" Joe called out finally. Bill turned. A look of surprise came over his face. "I just wanted to show you that you could play well with people watching you," Joe said. "Now you'll have nothing to worry about for the next game!" What would be the best title for the story? Joe joins the Team Practice Makes Perfect Bill Wins the Big Game Bill's Basketball Problem In line 8, the word performed is closest in meaning to _____. acted played moved changed Why is Bill upset? He plays better in practice than he does during games. The school yard is not a good place to practice. Joe watches him too closely when he plays. Why does Bill play well when Joe is watching him? He is comfortable with Joe. Joe tells him how to play better. He does not know that Joe is there. He wants to prove to Joe that he is a good player. Why does Joe decide to gather a group of people? Because he wants more players for his team Because he wants to help Bill feel less nervous Because he wants to show them his talent Because he wants more people to see the next game At the end of the story, all of the following people watch Bill practice EXCEPT _____. Joe a janitor a math teacher the basketball coach Why does the group have to be quiet when they go to the basketball court? Because Joe is telling Bill what to do Because they do not want Bill to know they were there Because Bill likes to practice alone Because the group needs to listen to Joe's instructions When another old cave is discovered in the south of France, it is not usually news. Rather, it is an ordinary event. Such discoveries are so frequent these days that hardly anybody pays heed to them. However, when the Lascaux cave complex was discovered in 1940, the world was amazed. Painted directly on its walls were hundreds of scenes showing how people lived thousands of years ago. The scenes show people hunting animals, such as bison or wild cats. Other images depict birds and, most noticeably, horses, which appear in more than 300 wall images, by far outnumbering all other animals. Early artists drawing these animals accomplished a monumental and difficult task. They did not limit themselves to the easily accessible walls but carried their painting materials to spaces that required climbing steep walls or crawling into narrow passages in the Lascaux complex. Unfortunately, the paintings have been exposed to the destructive action of water and temperature changes, which easily wear the images away. Because the Lascaux caves have many entrances, air movement has also damaged the images inside. Although they are not out in the open air, where natural light would have destroyed them long ago, many of the images have deteriorated and are barely recognizable. To prevent further damage, the site was closed to tourists in 1963, 23 years after it was discovered. Which title best summarizes the main idea of the passage? Wild Animals in Art Hidden Prehistoric Paintings Exploring Caves Respectfully Determining the Age of French Caves In line 4, the words pays heed to are closest in meaning to _____. discovers watches notices buys Based on the passage, what is probably true about the south of France? It is home to rare animals. It has a large number of caves. It is known for horse-racing events. It has attracted many famous artists. According to the passage, which animals appear most often in the Lascaux complex? Birds Bison Horses Wild cats In line 10, the word depict is closest in meaning to _____. Why was painting inside the Lascaux complex a difficult task? It was completely dark inside. The caves were full of wild animals. Painting materials were hard to find. Many painting spaces were difficult to reach. In line 14, the word They refers to _____. walls artists animals materials According to the passage, all of the following have caused damage to the paintings EXCEPT _____. temperature changes air movement water light What does the passage say happened at the Lascaux caves in 1963? Visitors were prohibited from entering. A new lighting system was installed. Another part was discovered. A new entrance was created.
